Copies of this Catalogue, giving prices realized, neatly executed in red ink, 50c. Cash with order. Acquaint yourself with the prevailing rates for coins, etc. Many collectors order them.

In the matter of Coin Collecting, there is no outlay of funds that brings equal satisfaction, to that expended for priced catalogues of current sales.

Coins and Medals are sold at so much per piece. Kindly make your bids accordingly. Do not bid by the lot. If a lot contains 10 pieces and you desire to offer $2.00 for it, make your bid 20c.

My terms for buying are 5 per cent.

Auction Sales are strictly for cash. Parties unknown to me must send a deposit covering at least 25 per cent. of their bids, otherwise they will not be accepted.

Collectors with experience have found that all catalogues are not alike.

My rating of the condition of Coins and Medals, and the statements made in my Catalogues as to their rarity, etc., are to be distinctly understood as based on my personal judgment, formed after an experience of more than twenty-five years as a dealer.

Tokens of the War of the Rebellion.

Size of the small current cent, with few exceptions. Up to about 1867, they represented the bulk of the pieces that passed for a cent, though having no resemblance to a coin, further than its shape and size. Merchants advertised their business on them, some promised to redeem. Another class partake of a general type, without name of issuer, not a few with popular and loyal expressions of the time. The preservation of the pieces in this collection, may be stated as averaging better than fine.

The Series of English Tokens, for Pence, Halfpence and Farthings, 1788-97, described by James Conder, Ipswich, 1799.

Judged by many, past and present—here and abroad—as more attractive, interesting, artistic and beautiful, than all others of the class. Active coin collectors, dealers, the first artists and die sinkers of the period, are responsible for them. Among the artists, we have Jas. Wright, Jr.,—whose father wrote the very interesting preface in Mr. Conder's work,—Hancock, Jacobs, James, Kempson, Milton, Droz and others. Important, noted collections have been formed here, among which, Mess. Mickley, Major Nichols, Col. Cutting, John G. Mills, Francis W. Doughty, Dr. Chas. E. Fraser, and others.

References are to Conder's work, giving page and number. Some of the prices realized at the Cutting sale are given, accompanied by CC.
